The Need

The campus will dramatically expand access to high-demand, top-quality specialty, emergency, surgical and inpatient care for children. This means kids who live in the area today, and those whose families are moving to the Northwest Valley in droves, can receive treatment from pediatric clinicians in their own community.

Kids with serious injuries and illnesses have much better health outcomes in pediatric facilities than adult facilities. Everything at Phoenix Children's Hospital — Arrowhead Campus – from clinicians who are specially trained in pediatrics to kid-sized equipment and exam rooms – was chosen with children in mind.
