

Nurse Coordinator Collaborative

Thursday, December 8, 2022

The Fetal Nurse Coordinator Collaborative is a full-day pre-conference session that will provide fetal cardiology nurse coordinators across the country an opportunity to learn new information and best practices for patient care coordination, psychosocial support, as well as valuable skills they can take back to their fetal care centers.

This year's educational session will include a focus on the impact of organ and tissue donation, research and education. We will also cover the integral role palliative care and mental health plays in caring for fetal care patients and their families.
